

39th Annual CNS Conference & 43rd Annual CNS/CNA Student Conference

Call for Student Papers

The 43rd Annual CNS/CNA Student Conference will be held at the Westin Hotel in Ottawa, Ontario, Canada, from June 23 to 26, 2019, in conjunction with the 39th Annual CNS Conference. The central theme of this year's conference is "Nuclear Energy's Value – aligned with community expectations".

We are soliciting short papers (maximum of 5 pages) from students in undergraduate and graduate levels on all topics related to the application and advancement of nuclear science and technology.

Upon acceptance, your paper will be included in the conference proceedings and you will present your work at the conference during the Student Poster Session. This is the highlight of the student conference, and is your chance to discuss your work with conference attendees that have a broad range of technical expertise. One student from each submission category (Undergraduate, Master's and Ph.D.) will be presented with an award during the conference Honors and Awards Luncheon, recognizing both the technical aspects of the work as well as their ability to present the topic in a clear, concise, and compelling manner.

In addition to the Student Poster Session, students will have the opportunity to meet and converse with leaders from both industry and academia and to participate in the full range of conference activities:

- Plenary sessions with invited speakers
- Technical sessions given by experts in a broad range of current research topics
- Exhibits with industrial leaders showcasing their latest nuclear products and technology
- Social events that facilitate discussions and networking

PAPER SUBMISSION DEADLINE: March 31, 2019

Submission Guidelines:

- Full papers must not exceed 5 pages in length.
- A student paper template is available via: <https://www.cns-annual-conference.org/>
- Student paper submissions should be made via: <https://www.softconf.com/h/CNS2019Students/>

NOTE:

Subsidies will be distributed to aid students with the cost of travel and accommodations; however, this does not cover the conference registration fee.

Student Conference Chair: Jacy Conrad
E-mail: cnsstudentconference@cns-snc.ca

