GENERAL INFORMATION

The Canadian Nuclear Society's 1st International Conference of Materials, Chemistry and Fitness-for-Service Solutions for Nuclear Systems will be held May 15th to 17th, 2019 at the Hilton Toronto/Markham Suites Conference Centre & Spa in Markham, ON.

The CNS promotes the exchange of information on all aspects of nuclear science and technology and its applications. This includes nuclear power generation, fuel production, uranium mining and refining, management and transportation of radioactive wastes and used fuel. Other topics include, but are not limited to, medical and industrial uses of radionuclides, occupational and environmental radiation protection, the science and technology of nuclear fusion, and associated activities in research and development.

Long-term operation, life extension, and refurbishment of Nuclear Power Plants often depend critically on robust fitness-for-service (FFS) demonstrations for major components. In this context, the theme selected for this year's conference is "Challenges & Innovative Solutions in Fitness-for-Service".

The focus for the MCFD-2019 Conference is on the approaches used to demonstrate the continued Fitness-for-Service (FFS) of components in Nuclear Power Plants. Ever increasing demands for FFS demonstrations often require innovative and multidisciplinary solutions that involve elements of engineering from: materials, chemistry, stress analysis, thermal-hydraulic analysis, probabilistic assessment methods, examination and inspection approaches, and operational strategies. This is the case for most major nuclear plant systems and components, regardless of reactor type.

Objectives of this conference are:

- To provide a forum for exchanging views, ideas, and information relating to innovative FFS demonstrations, and
- To share technical engineering in support of life extension and refurbishment of nuclear plant major components.

MCFD-2019 will cover all aspects of FFS, including:

- OPEX and lessons learned from recent FFS activities
- FFS case studies, programs, plans, and achievements
- Materials and chemistry factors in FFS demonstrations
- FFS methodologies for all major components
- Regulatory issues surrounding FFS
- Application of codes and standards in FFS
- Developments in probabilistic assessments
- Analytical tools
- Novel or innovative solutions
- Meeting the challenges of emerging issues

The conference will be of interest to representatives from various sectors of the Nuclear Industry including: material and equipment vendors, technical and engineering service providers, utility technical staff, regulators, designers, researchers, students, and academia.

This package contains everything you need to know about our Sponsorship and Exhibition opportunities. For more information about this year's conference, please visit:
